

Time Travel to an Island

Butterfly25

I didn't realize where I was until I could finally breathe. I was in a place where I was surrounded by water. I saw on one of the boards that the place was called "The Island Of The Blue Dolphin." I had read in a book about Karana the main character. I was worried that I might not return to my home from this place forever.

I was standing on a bubble thing because I thought it was a ball chair. It started flying. It was on an ultra-speed power. I didn't know how to turn it off. It kept on going really fast. I got scared and closed my eyes. I looked when I landed in an ordinary place. The bubble thingy flew back to where it was before. The place was unique and peaceful. A board said that the year was 1980. I remembered that when I was in my home, it was 2015. I just time traveled to the past to an island.

Great, now I will not return home forever because planes weren't invented back then and so was technology. I didn't know what to do. There was no way I could ask for help because that place was just discovered by American Indians. Everyone was hiding in the bush because they had no house. I didn't want to go to them because what if I scare them? I felt like I was waiting for gods and goddesses when waiting for the American Indians because they never came out.

Suddenly, I started jumping up and down when an old man came out of the bush. It looked like he was going to the river to drink water. I said "please come here" but he didn't come because he was old enough to not hear me. Then, I saw another girl following that old guy which was her grandpa because I heard her calling him grandpa. Then, the girl started to come near me. She introduced herself. Her name was Karana, too. That name must be common. Karana became my best friend because we shared our thoughts with each other even when she spoke English differently. I asked her to help me go back home. She didn't want me to go back but I had to go back. My family must have been so worried. She said she will come with me. She said we can go by a shortcut.

We explored many different places. We adventured ocean, desert, jungle, snow den, etc. I couldn't believe we got back to my home by walking. My feet were sore. We rested on our house. My family said they didn't know that I wasn't in my house because they were in my aunt's house. I showed Karana my family. That island wasn't that far from my house like I thought it was 7 countries away. She went back to her island and brought her parents to our house. Everyone was crying because her grandpa had just passed away. They moved near our house. They liked our house better but I thought that the island was friendly. They were our new neighbor.

Karana and I played together every day. We sometimes visited that island. They were like our new family. My parents were happy I found a friend because I didn't have that much friend before. I made Karana join my school and showed my teachers and friends. Everyone thought she was kind. That was the best time travel ever that changed my life.